NEW ADDITION TO BE BUILT TO LOCAL PLANT

Macbeth-Evans Glass Company Plans Factory

MATERIAL ON GROUND

Construction Work Expected to be Started Within Next Few Weeks

Material to be used in the construction of a new factory that will figure as an addition to the present large Charleroi plant of the Macbeth-Evans Glass company, is being shipped, it is stated, and not many days will pass before unusual activity will be noted. The new plant, which it is stated will be largely for the manufacture of novelty ware, will be built at the northern end of the present plant.

According to plans drafted last year the new factory will contain one furnace and two tanks. In it will be a blowing room and a leat room, fully equipped for handling novelties, of which it is said to be the intention to make a feature. Macbeth-Evans has never had the opportunity to expand much in the manufacture of novelty ware, owing to lack of space. At their other four plants, they make nothing but the clear ware. At the Charleroi plant, which is the largest, best equipped and most up-to-date owned by the company, and one of the best in the country, colored and novelty ware is manufactured now, but not to the extent demanded.

In addition to the novelty ware to be manufactured it is understood, the Macbeth-Evans company will by virtue of the new addition be enabled to greatly enlarge their output of clear ware. For the last few months the factory has been operating to its fullest capacity.

An addition recently finished at the southern end of the main factory has provided much needed ware room and office space. This has given also considerably more room in the plant for blowing and finishing purposes. The addition is 50 feet wide, extending the full length of the factory.

In the neighborhood of 200 more people will be given employment, it is stated, when the new plant is finished.

BELIEVED RIVER WILL ATTAIN FLOOD STAGE

Heavy Rains Along Entire Watershed Cause Sudden Rise--Rainfall Greatest Along the Cheat River

With the river at about 20 feet and over the locks at Lock No. 4 at noon and still rising, it is believed that the flood stage will be attained. The rapid rise which started Thursday night is due largely to heavy rains at headwaters.

Up until Thursday the river was at a fair stage, creeks were running full. Thursday night's rain was all that was needed to swell the current. This morning it was necessary to strip the lock at Lock No. 4. At Rowlesburg, W. Va., on the Cheat river the heaviest rainfall was reported, it being .86 inches. At Fairmont the rain fall was reported to the local lock was .83. At Greensboro the fall was .70 and at Lock No. 4 .70.

The most serious effect is the injury to navigation. Boats have been compelled to tie up along the river. Rivermen expect the river to rise to 28 feet.

INSTRUCTING HOW TO SPRAY TREES

State Botanists to Complete Work in This Section With Visit to Library

BETTER FRUIT RESULTS

The public demonstration in pruning and spraying conducted by the Division of Zoology of the State Department of Agriculture under the direction of Prof. H. A. Surface, Economic Zoologist, have been very largely attended by the farmers and fruit growers in practically all localities in which these meetings were held. The continued interest manifested in the methods shown is a hopeful sign for better fruit growing in Pennsylvania, and in the near future fancy fruit from this State will no doubt be found selling side by side with the high priced fruits from the West.

The object of these orchard meetings is not only to save the orchards from insect pests, but also to introduce the general practice of improved methods in horticulture by means of which high grade of good fruit can be grown at minimum cost. It is strongly recommended that all who have scale insects upon their trees, prepare at once to treat them thoroughly with lime-sulfur solution, either home-boiled, as prepared by the State Demonstrators, or commercial, which is sold in the agricultural supply stores and by dealers generally.

The one remaining meeting of the spring spraying schedule for Washington county will be held March 25, at the farm of Dr. G. W. Lake, at Library.

CLERK-CARRIER TEST ANNOUNCED

Examination to be Held by Civil Service for Local Postoffice

Announcement has been made of a clerk-carrier examination to be held in Charleroi, April 6, under the rules of the civil service. W. E. McFall, local civil service clerk, will have charge of the examination. The subjects on which the test will be conducted are spelling, arithmetic, letter-writing, penmanship, copying from plain copy and reading addresses. One of the severest obstacles to the success of many an applicant, geography, has been removed from the list of examination subjects.

After an examination is held a year is provided for the appointment. If no appointment is made by that time, the examination will be declared void, and another held. Sooner or later it will be necessary to add another employee at the local post-office and they will serve in the capacity of a clerk-carrier.

Shamrock Social. A Shamrock Social will be held tonight at the First Christian church. Good entertainment will be provided.

Advance for Window Men

Temporary Contract Entered Into by Employers and Employees at Belle Vernon

Together with a similar advance at other plants an increase of wages of approximately 33 1/3 per cent has been declared at the Belle Vernon plant of the American Window Glass company. The new contract is effective today and it will extend to May 30, this year, and the nature of it will be experimental.

At a meeting held in Cleveland on February 28, arrangements were made between the window glass men and their employees for the increase to extend a little over two months. It is believed at the expiration of that time the contract will be renewed at the same rate.

TO SELL BOOKS AT AUCTION

Pittsburg Plate Glass Club Wants Charter Annulled

EQUIPMENT VALUABLE

Application has been made to the court by the Pittsburg Plate Glass club for an annulment of their charter, and it is likely that upon that action being taken, arrangements will be made to auction off the library books and equipment which the club owns. This will terminate the existence of one of the beneficial clubs which has been factor in the town since its earliest history.

The Pittsburg Plate Glass club has been maintained by contributions of members since its organization. With the closing down of the factory last summer many of the chief supporters of the club left town and thereby withdrew their support.

The library is the most valuable holdings of the club. It consists of over 1,000 volumes. Much of the world's best literature is to be found on its shelves, together with many volumes of fiction. In addition to the library there is gymnasium and billiard room equipment. All will be disposed of at auction.

Received Many Presents. A merry time was spent at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Davies Thursday evening in honor of their daughter Catherine's birthday. There were about 20 guests present. The evening was enjoyed with various diversions and a lunch was served. Baby Catherine received many beautiful presents.

SPECIAL. The Winter Club will hold a special St. Patrick's Day dance in Micht's New Auditorium Monday, March 18. 1892

County Solicitor Decides Question for Commissioners

REQUEST TO BE DENIED

Roosevelt Men Lose Out-Law Effects Only the National Delegates

County Solicitor Isaac W. Baum handed down a negative decision Thursday in the matter of candidates for State delegate having opposite their names the candidates they favor for the presidency. One candidate for State delegate, County Controller John H. Moffitt, a Roosevelt candidate, had formally asked the county commissioners to place opposite his name on the ballot the words, "I favor Theodore Roosevelt for president." Several of the other candidates made the same request.

It seems that there is a law for the placing opposite the name of a candidate for national delegate certain words to show whom the candidate might favor for the presidency. This is done by the county commissioners whenever the request is made according to the statute. But in the case of a candidate for State delegate the county solicitor believes that this law has no bearing whatever upon the right of a candidate for State delegate to have placed upon the official ballot his idea as to who ought to be President of the United States.

A majority of the candidates believe that emergencies might arise to destroy their stipulated credentials. The alleged reform forces have a slate of delegates all alleged to favor Roosevelt for the presidency. The other candidates are out in the open and for the best interests of the Republican party.

Reward.

A reward of $10 will be paid for information leading to the arrest and conviction of the person or persons who broke the plate glass window in the Ross building on McKeen avenue, Saturday night.

These are thrilling pictures of Indian battles, warfare and life.

NOW'S THE TIME.

The call for a meeting tonight by the Republicans of Charleroi to suggest candidates for committeemen should serve to impress every good citizen of that political faith with the importance of his individual responsibility. The committee thus chosen and elected constitutes the party business managers, and they are to a great extent responsible for the conduct of party affairs in both their local district, the county and the State. If good men are chosen as these representatives, men who will work solely for the public good and oppose the use of the party organization for the promotion of special or personal interests, there would never be any need of political revolutions. Now is the time to put in some good licks for political righteousness right at the fountain head of politics.

If all Republicans will turn out and take as much interest in the selection of committeemen as they do in the general elections, there will be no necessity of factional party fights.
 When a political party is fully represented at an election or suggestion meeting, there can be no soreness over the selections made, even though there may be differences as to a choice. The public pretty generally accepts the will of the majority, but it is up to the voters to make that majority representative. Personal indifference and carelessness is at the bottom of all political corruption, and a failure to start right is the cause of the most of the misgovernment. With good representative committeemen Charleroi will continue as one of the most progressive and staunch Republican districts in the county.

THE BUSINESS END.

B. F. Jones' terse address on the business aspect of the Presidential campaign at the Taft rally at Pittsburg, this week, together with the importance of continuing President Taft in office, should have a decided effect upon the inclination toward radicalism that is manifested in some quarters in the State. Mr. Jones' intimate relations with the iron and steel industry, makes him well qualified as an authority on what will work for prosperity in the way of governmental policy, and the close connection of the big concern he represents with the industrial prosperity of the Fourth Pool of the Monongahela valley should give added weight to his statements. Mr. Jones
 says:

"There is a saying in the older countries that panics and severe business depressions come around about once in twenty-one years, due to the fact that the older people are retiring from business and the new generation is taking their place. In this country, our minds seem to be shorter. A great number are apt to forget what certain cause brought a certain effect. It is the duty of all Republicans, whether regular or irregular, progressive or not, seriously to consider this matter, and not to act hastily."

It is good business sense to put in execution progressive and scientific methods of improvement, and not to resort to revolution in order to correct matters. What wrongs that may exist in our civic and social affairs can be righted without an upheaval that destroys the foundation and stability of our institutions.
 Evolution accomplishes more than revolution, and is not anywhere nearly so destructive.

PICKED UP IN PASSING

Now that the moving picture show is a vital part of the social life everywhere, thoughtful people are endeavoring to turn it to account for the good it may do and the benefits it may confer upon society. Already the moving picture is beginning to be used in the schools for purposes of study and instruction, and now comes the suggestion and effort to have it used in the church and Sunday school, where the object lessons it could confer, it is urged would be most graphic and impressive. One of the most ardent advocates in this respect is Rev. Herbert Jump, pastor of the South Congregational church of New Britain, Conn., who has issued a pamphlet for private distribution, in which he argues most logically
 for the use of the moving picture in the church and Sunday school.

Having generally treated the motion picture as a sociological fact, Rev. Jump discusses its specific possibilities as a church and religious reformer. He says:

"First, it can help the church merely as an entertainment device. The indirect possibilities of religion in the oyster stew and the bean supper are commonly conceded.

"Second, the motion picture can help in giving religious instruction in the Sunday school. Pictures of travel through Palestine, of Biblical scenes, of events in the history of the church are available and ought to be used extensively.

"Thirdly, the motion picture film
 can do more for foreign and home missions than any agency yet utilized.
 The reason for the opposition to missions is to be found in ignorance of how mission work is done, and of what social conditions it aims to transform.

"Fourthly, the church needs to be an agent of broad civilization in its community: all the uplift campaigns against tuberculosis and crowded tenements, and in behalf of playgrounds, public baths and neighborhood centers need to be brought home to the public conscience and consciousness. A picture is a sort of graphic esperanto, a universal language.

"Fifthly, the crowning possibility of the motion picture is its unusefulness to the preacher as he proclaims moral truth. It will provide the element of illustration far better than it can be provided by the spoken word. If ministers were to return to Jesus' method of sermonizing, and with story and dramatic pictures were to illustrate a few simple ethical and spiritual realities, would not the constituency of the church become larger and more loyal?"

Applying these suggestions, Rev.
 Jump says that a Sunday evening service could be arranged as follows:
 "Let the hymns and prayers be as usual. Let the Scripture lesson be illustrated with a film exhibiting the very incident narrated by the Bible.
 Let the sermon be on a practical topic
 like temperance, honesty, loyalty, prayer, the purity of the home, pluck or self sacrifice, and let the sermon
 be illuminated by two motion picture parables from present day life."

read and write the English language

In addition the attention of applic-law which defines forgery and false statements in regard to certificates and provides a penalty for the violation of the same. Applicants must Home Treatment for Tuberculosis

Consumptive patients need no longer take either the fate that formerly overtook all sufferers from lung trouble, costly and often terribly inconvenient journeys far from home to other climate or to some expensive sanatorium. The trolleys are now staying quietly at home, curing themselves at no expense beyond the cost of a few bottles of medicine. There is one who speaks from experience—229 4th St., Culver City, Calif., Pa.

"Gentlemen: For four years I was troubled with cough, which gradually became worse; I had night sweats and pain in my chest. I was losing my appetite and had become so thin and weak I could not attend to my household duties. A physician pronounced my case Consumption, a highly fatal disease, was examined by the physicians of the Polyclinic Hospital; they also pronounced the disease Consumption, which was proven later by an examination of sputum, a Tubercle bacillus was found. I was ordered to a Consumptive Hospital. My nephew would not allow me to go until I had taken the medicine three weeks. I had marked relief, night sweats ceased, pain in the breast relieved; cough became loose and easy; fever left me an I commenced getting well. My health became normal. I am in excellent health now and have been completely cured for ten years. I strongly recommend it." (Signed) M. E. LEWIS, M.D., W.A.S.P.

TAFT IS CERTAIN OF NOMINATION

Only Thing In Doubt Is Size of His Vote at Chicago.

MAY BREAK 1908 RECORD.

Sentiment Growing In Big Republican States That He Is Only Man of His Party Who Can Be Elected This Year—Voters Satisfied With Administration's Policies.

President William H. Taft is on a fair road to renomination as the Republican standard bearer in the campaign of 1912. With approximately 100 delegates to the Chicago convention already instructed for him, the president is more than likely to break his record of 1908, when he was nominated with 702 votes on the first ballot in the Chicago convention of that year. There is no longer any question that he will be renominated, and the only question now, puzzling the managers of the Taft campaign is the completeness of his victory.

Coupled with the assurance of his renomination is the growing sentiment in the big Republican states both east and west that President Taft is the only Republican candidate who can possibly be elected this fall. It will be recalled readily enough that when Mr. Taft took office three years ago, March 4 last, the great issues of tariff

In estimating the probabilities of President Taft's renomination and re-election it is necessary to recur back to recent history. The president carried every northern state in 1908. Between the election of that year and 1910 occurred the tariff legislation known as the Payne tariff law. It is a well known maxim of politics that that party which revises the tariff is defeated at the next election, and the only exception to the rule in recent years was the passage of the Dingley law, which was followed so closely by the outbreak of the Spanish-American war as to bury the tariff issue in a wave of patriotic enthusiasm. The more recent by-elections in the big Republican states east of the Mississippi river, notably in New York, New Jersey and Pennsylvania, have shown a return of Republicans to the fold and a restoration of the old time Republican majorities, which justifies the prediction that they will be safely in the Taft column in November. That they will so unanimously support any other Republican candidate, particularly if the third term issue is injected into the fight, is denied by the best informed leaders in those states.

As to the nomination there is no longer any doubt but that President Taft will have a majority of the delegates both from the north and the south. New England will be practical if not entirely sold for him. He will have sweeping victories in New York, Pennsylvania and the other middle Atlantic states. Ohio has never yet failed to support a favorite son candidate or failed to cast its electoral vote for a Republican candidate for president. Indiana, Illinois, Iowa, Missouri, Minnesota, Kansas, Nebraska.

revision and reform on a protective basis and of monetary reform and the great legal problem involved in the exact meaning of the Sherman anti-trust statute were squarely before the country. In the latter issue the supreme court had not made its famous ruling in the Standard Oil and tobacco cases which were to outline for the first time since the law was passed by congress its exact meaning. On each of these three great issues it has been necessary for President Taft to consider and frame a definite policy, and it is his decision as to these great questions that has convinced the business men, the laboring men and the farmers of the country that another term in the White House for William H. Taft is all that is necessary to restore the country on that basis of unparalleled prosperity which characterized the administration of William McKinley. It is this sentiment which not only assures the renomination of Mr. Taft at Chicago, but also his re-election in November.

So many bewildering side issues have become involved in the present campaign for delegates to the Chicago convention that the facts above stated have been overlooked in certain communities. Even the progressive achievements of the Taft administration have been forgotten in the excitement occasioned by the introduction of new political doctrines, practically none of which, except the proposal to recall federal judges, can be dealt with by the national government, but must be decided each state for itself. The demand for a presidential preference primary in each state, wholly a state matter, in which even the president himself has no right to interfere, has been magnified into a national issue notwithstanding the fact that there is and can be no national law on the subject, and only a few states are prepared to throw the protection of the law around any such primary and in face of the fact that one-tenth of the delegates to the Chicago convention are already chosen and hundreds of delegates elected to state and district conventions. It has been estimated that to clothe such a primary with legal authority, as provided by the rules of the party, it would cost the taxpayers of this country not less than $5,000,000 immediately.

The hysteria occasioned by these conditions is now passing away, and the foremost facts staring the voters in the face are the progressive and definite policies of President Taft and the certainty of an immediate improvement in business conditions all over the country following his renomination and re-election. These facts are of vital interest to all classes of citizens, especially when they are confronted

South Dakota and Oklahoma of the middle western states will all have their quota of Taft delegates in the convention, four of them having already instructed delegates in some districts for the president. The southern states will be almost unanimous in their support of the president, while in Utah, Montana, Idaho, Colorado, Wyoming, Arizona and the Pacific coast states there is every assurance of solid Taft delegations. Present indications point only to a scattering opposition to President Taft's renomination.

Taft For Peace.

It was only by the exercise of rare discretion and tact that war was averted with Mexico nearly a year ago. Had President Taft yielded to the demands of some of the "jigglers" of the country the United States might easily have been plunged into a conflict with its neighbor over fancied wrongs. Without permitting the rights of American citizens to suffer in any respect, Mr. Taft handled a ticklish diplomatic situation with such good judgment that trouble was averted and the friendly relations with Mexico were undisturbed.

Taft's Anti-trust Record.

In the real prosecution of the trusts the administration of President Taft has established a record that is far beyond that of any of his predecessors. Big combinations have been brought to the bar of federal justice, their promoters have been fined for disobeying the Sherman anti-trust law, and the controlling corporations have been disintegrated. The record of the Taft administration stands unequalled in its curbing of illegal combinations and monopolies.

What Theodore Roosevelt Said.
On the 4th of March next I shall have served three and a half years and this three and a half years constitute my first term. The wise custom which limits the president to two terms regards the substance and not the form, and UNDER NO CIRCUMSTANCES WILL I BE A CANDIDATE FOR OR ACCEPT ANOTHER NOMINATION.—Theodore Roosevelt, Nov. 8, 1904.

I HAVE NOT CHANGED AN SHALL NOT CHANGE THAT DECISION. THIS ANNOUNCED.—Theodore Roosevelt, Dec. 11, 1907.

I WILL ACCEPT THE NOMINATION FOR PRESIDENT IF IT IS TENDERED TO ME, and I will adhere to this decision until the convention has expressed its preference.

CHARLEROI CIRCLE PLANS MOCK TRIAL

A mock trial held by the members of Charleroi Circle, No. 303 P. H. C. a few weeks ago created quite an interest and was productive of much good wholesome and intellectual amusement. The case tried was a civil one being a breach of promise case for $40,000 damage, Miss Romola Anderson vs Farmer Smith Frye. Frank B. Taylor appeared for Miss Anderson, the prosecutrix, while Frank B. Taylor sustained the defendant, Mr. Frye. Both fought hard for their respective clients and some hot legal ammunition was shot into the jury box where sat six honest, good and true men.

The case was heard before Hon. Judge Sam Franks, who presided with dignity, neatness and dispatch. His charge to them was a masterpiece of legal talent.

An attempt was made to bribe the jury, but the keen eye and quick hand of Judge Franks headed it off. The jury, with a few moments deliberation returned a verdict for the defendant M. Frye. The prosecutor was to pay all costs, the attorney, Mr. Taylor for the fair one to set up cigars and ice cream.

Mr. Taylor has announced that he will take an appeal to the Superior Court. Hon. Judge W. R. Stark of Uniontown also State Deputy will sit on the case of appeal. Mr. Taylor will settle up all costs furnish cigars for the judge and jury and set up ice cream at the next regular meeting Friday evening March 15. He has also filed a bill of particulars setting forth why he and his claimant did not receive a fair trial.

Much interest is being taken by the social committee of the Circle, who are sparing no time to furnish the mid-winter entertainments in a creditable manner. Charleroi Circle is now on a fair way to reach the 500 mark by June. The Grand Circle convention of the P. H. C. will be held in Uniontown in May. Miss Sarah Booth and Frank B. Taylor have been chosen as delegates to represent the local circle in the grand circle.

The circle is at present co-operating with the Colonial Minstrels composed mostly of members of the order and are well known as being possessed of much talent along that line. The show will be put on soon after Lent.

PITTSBURGHERS WORK FOR TAFT

Taft Club Launched at Enthusiastic Meeting

ALL CLASSES REPRESENTED

Resolutions Adopted Indorsing President in His Endeavor to Secure Re-nomination and Assuring Support. Great Mass Meeting to Be Held Later at Which Men of National Prominence Will Speak.

Pittsburgh, March 15.—An enthusiastic crowd of men of all occupations and from all parts of the Pittsburgh district launched the Taft Club of Pittsburgh at a meeting in the Fort Pitt hotel here Wednesday night. At the same time arrangements were started for holding a big mass meeting of Taft Republicans which, it is said, will be addressed by men of national reputation. The crowd which attended the meeting filled the big room and flowed over into the corridors. Much enthusiasm prevailed and the list of speakers included attorneys, manufacturers, mill workers, merchants and labor leaders.

B. F. Jones, president of the Jones and Laughlin Steel company, presided and a number of speeches were made. The following resolution, presented by James I. Buchanan, president of the Pittsburgh Trust company, was adopted following the speeches:

Resolutions Adopted.

"Resolved, That it is the conviction of this gathering of business men, professional men, workmen and manufacturers that William Howard Taft, president of the United States, should receive from us and from every Republican vigorous and practical support in his well-earned right to seek renomination, and we hereby agree to use our utmost endeavors to elect delegates from the Pittsburgh district to the national Republican convention who shall be favorable to his interests.

"That we take this action from a deep-seated conviction that he is the one man in the nation entitled to this support, because of his noble personal character, his fidelity to the highest principles of his party and his people; his splendid executive ability as a statesman and above all because of his broad-minded, just and far-seeing guidance of the affairs of his country from a condition verging on chaos and disaster when he came into office to a state of security, confidence and growing prosperity today."

Major James E. Porter, vice president of the Firth Sterling Steel company, presented a resolution forming the Taft club out of the assemblage and naming Mr. Jones as the president. It was adopted as was a resolution presented by Morris Baer, general manager for Kaufmann Bros., authorizing the president to appoint committees and complete the organization of the club.

Another resolution adopted was presented by J. Rodgers Flannery. It called for the election of 2,000 men as vice presidents, who had asked to have their names placed in the list of vice presidents and that the list be published.

Councilman Robert Garland's resolution, providing that the new club call a mass meeting was adopted.

Men Who Spoke.

Those who made addresses at the meeting were Mr. Jones, Attorney Thomas Patterson, Charles Garlick, county boiler inspector and past president of the Stationary Engineers of America; Martin J. Dowling, superintendent of the Southside mills of the Jones and Laughlin Steel company; Attorney Joseph A. Stadfeld, John T. Senehan, former vice president of the Amalgamated Association of Iron, Steel and Tinworkers; Warden John Francis of the Western Penitentiary; Colonel Samuel Harden Church, assistant secretary of the Pennsylvania Lines west; Charles W. Gerwig, John Dimling, merchant.

Mr. Jones, in his address, said in part:

"We are gathered here not as a body of politicians, but as business men resembling possibly committee of stockholders, called together for the purpose of conversing their business and to find a way to overcome that which threatens their very business life.

"It is hard for ordinary business men to fathom the workings of a judicial mind. Our president has such a mind, and he looks at matters from a legal standpoint, which at first does not at times seem to coincide with the business viewpoint. In every case where our president has had an opportunity to complete anything which he has inaugurated we have to acknowledge the wisdom of his judgment. The spirit of fair play, which is innate in the hearts of the American people demands that Mr. Taft be given the nomination for a second term, in order that he may bring to a conclusion plan which he has not had time to accomplish."

Warden Church said among other things:

"We are at the head of a great reform wave. We are saturated with some of the ideals of the former. The modern pirate spots a bay whale, speaks up to his best friend, settles the hip and stocks a bay. The pirates of old were better than these men who are behind the man from C."

Macbeth-Evans Glass Company Plans Factory

Construction Work Expected to be Started Within Next Few Weeks

Material to be used in the construction of a new factory that will figure as an addition to the present large Charleroi plant of the Macbeth-Evans Glass company, is being shipped, it is stated, and not many days will pass before unusual activity will be noted. The new plant, which it is stated will be largely for the manufacture of novelty ware, will be built at the northern end of the present plant.

According to plans drafted last year the new factory will contain one furnace and two tanks. It will be a blowing room and a leat room, fully equipped for handling novelties, of which it is said to be the intention to make a feature. Macbeth-Evans has never had the opportunity to expand much in the manufacture of novelty ware, owing to lack of space. At their other four plants, they make nothing but the clear ware. At the Charleroi plant, which is the largest, best equipped and most up-to-date owned by the company, and one of the best in the country, colored and novelty ware is manufactured now, but not to the extent demanded.

In addition to the novelty ware to be manufactured it is understood, the Macbeth-Evans company will by virtue of the new addition be enabled to greatly enlarge their output of clear ware. For the last few months the factory has been operating to its fullest capacity.

An addition recently finished at the southern end of the main factory has provided much needed ware room and office space. This has given also considerably more room in the plant for blowing and finishing purposes. The addition is 50 feet wide, extending the full length of the factory.

In the neighborhood of 200 more people will be given employment, it is stated, when the new plant is finished.

BELIEVED RIVER WILL ATTAIN FLOOD STAGE

Heavy Rains Along Entire Watershed Cause Sudden Rise--Rainfall Greatest Along the Cheat River

With the river at about 20 feet and over the locks at Lock No. 4 at noon and still rising, it is believed that the flood stage will be attained. The rapid rise which started Thursday night is due largely to heavy rains at headwaters.

Up until Thursday the river was at a fair stage, creeks were running full. Thursday night's rain was all that was needed to swell the current. This morning it was necessary to strip the lock at Lock No. 4.

At Rowlesburg, W. Va., on the Cheat river the heaviest rainfall was reported, it being .86 inches. At Fairmont the rain fall was reported to the local lock was .88. At Greensboro the fall was .70 and at Lock No. 4 .70.

The most serious effect in the injury to navigation. Boats have been compelled to tie up along the river. Rivermen expect the river to rise to 28 feet.

INSTRUCTING HOW TO SPRAY TREES

BETTER FRUIT RESULTS

The public demonstration in pruning and spraying conducted by the Division of Zoology of the State Department of Agriculture under the direction of Prof. H. A. Surface, Economic Zoologist, have been very largely attended by the farmers and fruit growers in practically all localities in which these meetings were held. The continued interest manifested in the methods shown is a hopeful sign for better fruit growing in Pennsylvania, and in the near future fancy fruit from this State will no doubt be found selling side by side with the high priced fruits from the West.

The object of these orchard meetings is not only to save the orchards from insect pests, but also to introduce the general practice of improved methods in horticulture by means of which high grade of good fruit can be grown at minimum cost.

It is strongly recommended that all who have scale insects upon their trees, prepare at once to treat them thoroughly with lime-sulfur solution, either home-boiled, as prepared by the State Demonstrators, or commercial, which is sold in the agricultural supply stores and by dealers generally.

The one remaining meeting of the spring spraying schedule for Washington county will be held March 25, at the farm of Dr. G. W. Lake, at Library.

Examination to be Held by Civil Service for Local Postoffice

Announcement has been made of a clerk-carrier examination to be held in Charleroi, April 6, under the rules of the civil service. W. E. McFall, local civil service clerk, will have charge of the examination. The subjects on which the test will be conducted are spelling, arithmetic, letter-writing, penmanship, copying from plain copy and reading addresses. One of the severest obstacles to the success of many an applicant, geography, has been removed from the list of examination subjects.

After an examination is held a year is provided for the appointment. If no appointment is made by that time, the examination will be declared void, and another held. Advance for Window Men

Together with a similar advance at other plants an increase of wages of approximately 33 1/3 per cent has been declared at the Belle Vernon plant of the American Window Glass company. The new contract is effective today and it will extend to May 30, this year, and the nature of it will be experimental.

At a meeting held in Cleveland on February 28, arrangements were made between the window glass men and their employees for the increase to extend a little over two months. It is believed at the expiration of that time the contract will be renewed at the same rate.

TO SELL BOOKS AT AUCTION

Pittsburg Plate Glass Club Wants Charter Annulled

EQUIPMENT VALUABLE

Application has been made to the court by the Pittsburg Plate Glass club for an annulment of their charter, and it is likely that upon that action being taken, arrangements will be made to auction off the library books and equipment which the club owns. This will terminate the existence of one of the beneficial clubs which has been a factor in the town since its earliest history.

The Pittsburg Plate Glass club has been maintained by contributions of members since its organization. With the closing down of the factory last summer many of the chief supporters of the club left town and thereby withdrew their support.

The library is the most valuable holdings of the club. It consists of over 1,000 volumes. Much of the world's best literature is to be found on its shelves, together with many volumes of fiction. In addition to the library there is gymnasium and billiard room equipment. All will be disposed of at auction.

Received Many Presents. A merry time was spent at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Davies Thursday evening in honor of their daughter Catherine's birthday. There were about 20 guests present. The evening was enjoyed with various diversions and a lunch was served. Baby Catherine received many beautiful presents.

NOW'S THE TIME.

The call for a meeting tonight by
the Republicans of Charleroi to suggest candidates for committeemen
should serve to impress every good citizen of that political party with the importance of his individual responsibility. The committee thus chosen and elected constitutes the
party business managers, and they are to a great extent responsible for
the conduct of party affairs in both
their local district, the county and the State. If good men are chosen as these representatives, men who will work solely for the public god and oppose the use of the party organization for the promotion of speccial or personal interests, there would never be any need of political revolutions. Now is the time to put in some good licks for political righteousness right at the fountain head
of politics.

If all Republicans will turn out
and take as much interest in the selection of committeemen as they do at the general elections, there will be no necessity of factional party fights.
When a political party is fully represented at an election or suggestion
meeting, there can be no soreness
over the selections made, even though there may be differences as to a choice. The public pretty generally accepts the will of the majority, but it is up to the voters to make that
majority representative. Personal animosity is at the bottom of all political corruption,

and a failure to start right is the cause of the most of the misgovernment. With good representative committeemen Charleroi will continue

as one of the most progressive and staunchn Republican districts in the country.

THE BUSINESS END.

B. F. Jones' terse address on the business aspect of the Presidential campaign at the Taft rally at Pittsburgh, this week, together with the importance of continuing President Taft in office, should have a decided effect upon the inclination toward radicalism that is manifested in some quarters in the State. Mr. Jones' intimate relations with the iron and steel industry, makes him well qualified as an authority on what will
work for prosperity in the way of
governmental policy, and the close connection of the big concern he represents with the industrial prosperity of the Fourth Pool of the Monongahela valley should give added
weight to his statements. Mr. Jones
says:

"There is a saying in the older
countries that panics and severe business depressions come around about once in twenty years, due to the fact that the older people are retiring
from business and the new generation is taking their place. In this country, our minds seem to be short-
er. A great number are apt to forget what certain cause brought a certain effect. It is the duty of all Republicans, whether regular or irregular, progressive or not, seriously
to consider this matter, and not
to act hastily."

It is good business sense to put in
execution progressive and scientific
methods of improvement, and not to resort to revolution in order to correct matters. What wrongs that may exist in our civic and social affairs can be righted without an upheaval that destroys the foundation
and stability of our institutions.
Evolution accomplishes more than
revolution, and is not anywhere nearly so destructive.

PICKED UP IN-PASSING.

Now that the moving picture show
is a vital part of the social life everywhere, thoughtful people are endeavoring to turn it to account for the good it may do and the benefits it may confer upon society. Already
the moving picture is beginning to be used in the schools for purposes
of study and instruction, and now comes the suggestion and effort to have it used in the church and Sunday school. where the object lessons it could confer, it is urged would be most graphic and impressive. One of the most ardent advocates in this respect is Rev. Herbert Jump, pastor
of the South Congregational church
of New Britain, Conn., who has issued
a pamphlet for private distribution,
in which he argues most logically
for the use of the moving picture
in the church and Sunday school.

Having generally treated the motion picture as a sociological fact, Rev.
Jump discusses its specific possibilities as a church and religious
reformer. He says:

"First, it can help the church merely
as an entertainment device. The indirect possibilities of religion in
the oyster stew and the bean supper
are commonly conceded.

"Second, the motion picture can
help in giving religious instruction
in the Sunday school. Pictures of travel through Palestine, of Biblical scenes, of events in the history of the church are available and ought to be used extensively.

"Thirdly, the motion picture film
can do more for foreign and home
missions than any agency yet utilized.
The reason for the opposition to
missions is to be found in ignorance
of how mission work is done, and of what social conditions it aims to transform.

"Fourthly, the church needs to be an agent of broad civilization in its
community; all the uplift campaigns
against tuberculosis and crowded
tenements, and in behalf of playgrounds, public baths and neighborhood centers need to be brought home
to the public conscience and consciousness. A picture is a sort of graphic Esperanto, a universal language.

"Fifthly, the crowning possibility of the motion picture is its usefulness to the preacher as he proclaims moral truth. It will provide the element of illustration far better than it can be provided by the spoken word. If ministers were to return to Jesus'
method of sermonizing, and with
story and dramatic pictures were to illustrate a few simple ethical and
spiritual realities, would not the constituency of the church become larger
and more loyal?"

Applying these suggestions, Rev.
Jump says that a Sunday evening service could be arranged as follows:

"Let the hymns and prayers be as usual. Let the Scripture lesson be illustrated with a film exhibiting the very incident narrated by the Bible.
Let the sermon be on a practical topic
like temperance, honesty, loyalty,
prayer, the purity of the home, pluck
or self sacrifice, and let the sermon
be illuminated by two motion picture
parables from present day life."

REFLECTIONS OF A BACHELOR

First a man loses his money at cards, then his temper.

When a man isn't afraid of the cook he's taking his meals in a restaurant.

Keeping out of jail can make some men think they are honest.

The reason children are so noisy is they might be so attractive if they weren't.

A man seems to run out of sentimental pet names for the girl the minute he marries her.

What would be the use of a bad temper to a man if he didn't have a family to vent it on?

A girl never gets tired of dancing so that she can always get tired of helping her mother.

Even when a woman gets to be a grandmother she knows it isn't on account of her years.

What makes a man specially proud of himself is his delusion that his fellow citizens are.

It's the way of a girl to be able to look pretty to the man she likes, whether she is or not.

The higher the opinion you have of yourself the better it would be for you if some of it were deserved.

There's a lot more praying by people for things they want to have than giving thanks for things they have already.

The reason a man wants to do so much for the girl to whom he's engaged is he won't after they are married.

Only Thing In Doubt Is Size of His Vote at Chicago.

MAY BREAK 1908 RECORD.

Sentiment Growing In Big Republican States That He Is Only Man of His Party Who Can Be Elected This Year—Voters Satisfied With Administration's Policies.

President William H. Taft is on a fair road to renomination as the Republican standard bearer in the campaign of 1912. With approximately 100 delegates to the Chicago convention already instructed for him, the president is more than likely to break his record of 1908, when he was nominated with 702 votes on the first ballot in the Chicago convention of that year. There is no longer any question that he will be renominated, and the only question is as to the numbers of the supporters of the Taft campaign is the completeness of his victory.

Coupled with the assurance of his renomination is the growing sentiment in the big Republican states both east and west that President Taft is the only Republican candidate who can possibly be elected this fall. It will be recalled readily enough that when Mr. Taft took office three years ago, March 4 last, the great issues of tariff

In estimating the probabilities of President Taft's renomination and re-election it is necessary to recur only to recent history. The president carried every northern state in 1908. Between the election of that year and 1910 occurred the tariff legislation known as the Payne tariff law. It is a well known maxim of politics that that party which revises the tariff is defeated at the next election, and the only exception to the rule in recent years was the passage of the Dingley law, which was followed so closely by the outbreak of the Spanish-American war as to bury the tariff issue in a wave of patriotic enthusiasm. The more recent by-elections in the big Republican states east of the Mississippi river, notably in New York, New Jersey and Pennsylvania, have shown a return of Republicans to the fold and a restoration of the old time Republican majorities, which justifies the prediction that they will be safely in the Taft column in November. That they will so unanimously support any other Republican candidate, particularly if the third term issue is injected into the fight, is denied by the best informed leaders in those states.

As to the nomination there is no longer any doubt but that President Taft will have a majority of the delegates both from the north and the south. New England will be practical if not entirely solid for him. He will have sweeping victories in New York, Pennsylvania and the other middle Atlantic states. Ohio has never yet failed to support a favorite son candidate or failed to cast its electoral vote for a Republican candidate for president. Indiana, Illinois, Iowa, Missouri, Minnesota, Kansas, Nebraska, revision and reform on a protective basis and of monetary reform and the great legal problem involved in the exact meaning of the Sherman anti-trust statute were squarely before the country. In the latter issue the supreme court had not made its famous ruling in the Standard Oil and tobacco cases which were to outline for the first time since the law was passed by congress its exact meaning. On each of these three great issues it has been necessary for President Taft to consider and frame a definite policy, and it is his decision as to these great questions that has convinced the business men, the laboring men and the farmers of the country that another term in the White House for William H. Taft is all that is necessary to restore the country on that basis of unparalleled prosperity which characterized the administration of William McKinley. It is this sentiment which not only assures the renomination of Mr. Taft at Chicago, but also his re-election in November.

So many bewildering side issues have become involved in the present campaign for delegates to the Chicago convention that the facts above stated have been overlooked in certain communities. Even the progressive achievements of the Taft administration have been forgotten in the excitement occasioned by the introduction of new political doctrines, practically none of which, except the proposal to recall federal judges, can be dealt with by the national government, but must be decided each state for itself. The demand for a presidential preference primary in each state, wholly a state matter in which even the president himself has no right to interfere, has been magnified into a national issue notwithstanding the fact that there is and can be no national law on the subject, and only a few states are prepared to throw the protection of the law around any such primary and in face of the fact that one tenth of the delegates to the Chicago convention are already chosen and hundreds of delegates elected to state and district conventions. It has been estimated that to clothe such a primary with legal authority, as provided by the rules of the party, it would cost the taxpayers of this country not less than $5,000,000 immediately.

The hysteria occasioned by these conditions is now passing away, and the foremost facts staring the voters in the face are the progressive and definite policies of President Taft and the certainty of an immediate improvement in business conditions all over the country following his renomination and re-election. These facts are of vital interest to all classes of citizens, especially when they are confronted

South Dakota and Oklahoma of the middle western states will all have their quota of Taft delegates in the convention, four of them having already instructed delegates in some districts for the president. The southern states will be almost unanimous in their support of the president, while in Utah, Montana, Idaho, Colorado, Wyoming, Arizona and the Pacific coast states there is every assurance of solid Taft delegations. Present indications point only to a scattering opposition to President Taft's renomination.

Taft For Peace.

It was only by the exercise of rare discretion and tact that war was averted with Mexico nearly a year ago. Had President Taft yielded to the demands of some of the "junges" of the country the United States might easily have been plunged into a conflict with its neighbor over fancied wrongs. Without permitting the rights of American citizens to suffer in any respect, Mr. Taft handled a ticklish diplomatic situation with such good judgment that trouble was averted and the friendly relations with Mexico were undisputed.

Taft's Anti-trust Record.

In the real prosecution of the trust, the administration of President Taft has established a record that is far beyond that of any of his predecessors. Big combinations have been brought to the bar of federal justice, their promoters have been fined for disobeying the Sherman anti-trust law, and the controlling corporations have been disintegrated. The record of the Taft administration stands unequalled in its curbing of illegal combinations and monopolies.

What Theodore Roosevelt Said.

On the 4th of March next I shall have served three and a half years and this three and a half years constitute my first term. The wise custom which limits the president to two terms regards the substance and not the form, and UNDER NO CIRCUMSTANCES WILL I BE A CANDIDATE FOR OR ACCEPT ANOTHER NOMINATION.—Theodore Roosevelt Nov. 8, 1909

I HAVE NOT CHANGED AN SHALL NOT CHANGE THAT DECISION THUS ANNOUNCED.—Theodore Roosevelt Dec. 11, 1907

I WILL ACCEPT THE NOMINATION FOR PRESIDENT IF IT IS TENDERED TO ME, and I will adhere to this decision until the convention has expressed its preference.—Theodore Roosevelt, Feb. 24, 1912.

CHARLEROI CIRCLE PLANS MOCK TRIAL

A mock trial held by the members of Charleroi Circle, No. 303 P. H. C. a few weeks ago created quite an interest and was productive of much good wholesome and intellectual amusement. The case tried was a civil one being a breach of promise case for $40,000 damage, Miss Roma Anderson vs Farmer Smith Frye. Frank B. Taylor appeared for Miss Anderson, the prosecutrix, while Frank Frye sustained the defendant, Mr. Frye. Both fought hard for their respective clients and some hot legal ammunition was shot into the jury box where sat six honest, good and true men.

The case was heard before Hon. Judge Sam Franks, who presided with dignity, neatness and dispatch. His charge to them was a masterpiece of legal talent.

An attempt was made to bribe the jury, but the keen eye and quick hand of Judge Franks headed it off. The jury, with a few moments deliberation, returned a verdict for the defendant M. Frye. The prosecutor was to pay all costs, the attorney, Mr. Taylor for the fair one to set up cigars and ice cream.

Mr. Taylor has announced that he will take an appeal to the Superior Court. Hon. Judge W. R. Stark of Uniontown also State Deputy will sit on the case of appeal. Mr. Taylor will settle up all costs furnish cigars for the judge and jury and set up ice cream at the next regular meeting Friday evening March 15. He has also filed a bill of particulars setting forth why he and his claimant did not receive a fair trial.

Much interest is being taken by the social committee of the Circle, who are sparing no time to furnish the mid-winter entertainments in a creditable manner. Charleroi Circle is now on a fair way to reach the 500 mark by June. The Grand Circle convention of the P. H. C. will be held in Uniontown in May. Miss Sarah Booth and Frank B. Taylor have been chosen as delegates to represent the local circle in the grand circle.

The circle is at present co-operating with the Colonial Minstrels composed mostly of members of the order and are well known as being possessed of much talent along that line. The show will be put on soon after Lent.

PITTSBURGHERS WORK FOR TAFT

Taft Club Launched at Enthusiastic Meeting

ALL CLASSES REPRESENTED

Resolutions Adopted Indorsing President in His Endeavor to Secure Re-nomination and Assuring Support. Great Mass Meeting to Be Held Later at Which Men of National Prominence Will Speak.

Pittsburgh, March 15.—An enthusiastic crowd of men of all occupations and from all parts of the Pittsburgh district launched the Taft Club of Pittsburgh at a meeting in the Fort Pitt hotel here Wednesday night. At the same time arrangements were started for holding a big mass meeting of Taft Republicans which it is said, will be addressed by men of national reputation. The crowd which filled the hall overflowed into the room and flowed over into the corridors. Much enthusiasm prevailed and the list of speakers included attorneys, manufacturers, mill workers, merchants and labor leaders.

B. F. Jones, president of the Jones and Laughlin Steel company, presided and a number of speeches were made. The following resolution presented by James I. Buchanan, president of the Pittsburgh Trust company was adopted following the speeches:

Resolutions Adopted.
"Resolved That it is the conviction of this gathering of business men, professional men, workmen and manufacturers that William Howard Taft, president of the United States should receive from us and from every Republican vigorous and practical support in his well-earned right to seek renomination and we hereby agree to use our utmost endeavors to elect delegates from the Pittsburgh district to the national Republican convention who shall be favorable to his interests."

"That we take this action from a deep-seated conviction that he is the one man in the nation entitled to this support, because of his noble personal character, his fidelity to the highest principles of his party and his people, his splendid executive ability as a statesman and above all because of his broad-minded, just and far-seeing guidance of the affairs of his country from a condition verging on chaos and disaster when he came into office to a state of security, confidence and growing prosperity today."

Major James E. Porter, vice president of the First Sterling Steel company, presented a resolution forming the Taft club out of the assemblage and naming Mr. Jones as the president. It was adopted as was a resolution presented by Morris Baer, general manager for Kaufmann Bros., authorizing the president to appoint committees and complete the organization of the club.

Another resolution adopted was presented by J. Rodgers Flarnery, it called for the election of 2,000 men as vice presidents, who had asked to have their names placed in the list of vice presidents and that the list be published.

Councilman Robert Garlard's resolution, providing that the new club call a mass meeting was adopted.

Men Who Spoke.

Those who made addresses at the meeting were Mr. Jones, Attorney Thomas Patterson, Charles Garlick, county boiler inspector and past president of the Stationary Engineers of America; Martin J. Dowling, superintendent of the Southside mills of the Jones and Laughlin Steel company; Attorney Joseph A. Stadifield, John T. Senehan, former vice president of the Amalgamated Association of Iron, Steel and Tinworkers; Warden John Francis of the Western Penitentiary; Colonel Samuel Harden Church, assistant secretary of the Pennsylvania Lines west; Charles W. Gerwig, John Dimling, merchant.

Mr. Jones, in his address, said in part:

"We are gathered here not as a body of politicians, but as business men resembling possibly a committee of stockholders, called together for the purpose of conversing their business and to find a way to overcome which threatens their very business life."

"It is hard for ordinary business men to fathom the workings of a judicial mind. Our president has such a mind, and he looks at matters from a legal standpoint, which at first does not at times seem to coincide with the business viewpoint. In every case where our president has had an opportunity to complete anything which he has inaugurated we have to acknowledge the wisdom of his judgment. The spirit of fair play, which is innate in the hearts of the American people demands that Mr. Taft be given the nomination for a second term, in order that he may bring to a conclusion plans which he has not had time to accomplish."

Warren Francis said among other things:

"form wave. We are not satisfied with some of the 'pirate' corners. The modern pirate spots a likely flag, sneaks up to his next friend, settles the ship and spreads a flag. The pirates of old were a lot better than these new who run behind the man from C."
